originally published in 1965 and written by a noted economist and leader in the field of conflict resolution this book traces the forces which have brought the 20th century post civilisation into being the ever increasing power of science and the scientific attitude the global communication network the high efficiency of industrial societies new conditions pointed to a life of ease but also enormous problems the book discusses how though our technical resources have become immense social and psychological conflicts remain the author s training in psychology and economics combines with a deep sense of history to create a book which is as relevant now as when it was first published how can we develop a cultural theory starting with the basic insight that human beings are storytelling animals within literary studies narratology is a highly developed field however literary historians have not paid much attention to the large and small stories abounding in everyday discourse guiding all kinds of social activity and providing common ground for whole societies but also fueling controversies and hostilities moreover narrative is not only a scholarly category but has come into use in many fields of social activity as a tool for cultural self fashioning this book is based on the assumption that to a large extent social dynamics is modeled in an aesthetic manner via narratives it explores the narrative organization of cultural spaces and time frames the mythological shaping of communities and adversaries and the co production of narratives and institutions aimed at stabilizing social life in this framework the epistemological problem looms large of how an instrument as unreliable as narrative can participate in the creation of a social consensus regarding truth this problem endows the general topics explored in this book with a particularly contemporary dimension
